IF YOU SUSPECT HUMAN TRAFFICKING

CALL 911 in an emergency, if a minor is involved, or if a controller is present.

If a potential victim is alone or you can safely separate them from a controller, ask them "Are you OK?"

- If they want you to contact police, call 911.
- If not, give them a resources card or the human trafficking hotline 1-888-373-7888 or text 233733 (BEFREE).

If you suspect human trafficking or sex buying and a victim is not present, report it:

- to your manager,
- to human resources, and/or
- to the Port of Seattle Confidential Reporting Line 1-877-571-5237.

FLIGHTS TO FREEDOM

Human Trafficking Prevention Training

at best-training.org or the Port's Learning Portal

The Port of Seattle stands against human trafficking. Human trafficking happens when (1) force, fraud, or coercion are used to compel a person into work or prostitution or (2) a minor is prostituted.
