You state the port Of seattle is doing everything they can to stop the spread. Yet the new construction site ( Clark construction )at the airport is still open. This site does not impact incoming or outgoing flights!

This jobsite is NOT essential to our health or well being!

Keeping this construction site open will only aid the spread of this horrible virus.

This site has already had 3 confirmed cases of the virus! These confirmed workers have more then likely infected other workers. Only time will tell. Also you state the construction site workers are not in direct contact with the operational Part of the airport ( the actual essential part of the airport)

This is not true! Workers pass through the airport

They use the restrooms

They go to coffee stands

Again just close this NON essential jobsite down. Let's work together to stop the spread.

Shut it down before more people get infected. Causing further spread and more Death
