We face challenges — some within our control — some not. You have the authority to help save the planet. Yet, you seem determined to continue to support and advance the aviation and cruise ship industries, both of which represent business as usual. We are in a crisis. Help us turn things around, if not for you, then for your grandchildren and for all of the grandchildren who will have no choice — who will live with our decisions.

How do you want to be remembered?

Thank you for your consideration.

And we've got to get ourselves

Back to the garden
